

USAGE AND LICENSE OF THE CKM® DESIGNATION

Congratulations on completing your KMPro CKM® certification!

Related to your usage of the designation "CKM®" -- please note that this designation is a U.S. Federally registered trademark owned by Hudson Associates Consulting, Inc. and licensed to the Knowledge Management Professional Society (KMPro). As a registered trademark your usage of the designation must always reflect that it is a registered trademark by including the ® at the end of the designation.

Also note that in awarding this designation, KMPro hereby grants to you a limited, non-exclusive, worldwide, revocable, non-transferable, royalty-free license for your personal usage of the mark. Except for the limited license rights granted to you, KMPro reserves to itself all right, title and interest in and to the trademark under license from Hudson Associates Consulting, Inc. Additionally, the terms of this license agreement incorporate by reference the copyright and trademark restrictions and conditions contained on the inside cover page of the CKM® certification training materials. Portions of these CKM® certification training materials are also covered under U.S. Copyright Registration Number TX0006899440, © 2008. Additional information has been provided to you in the document "Trademark Usage & Intellectual Property Guidelines for Customers, Licensees and Other Third Parties" which was included within the CKM® certification workshop training materials.

In accepting this CKM® designation you understand that any misuse of the CKM® designation, violation of the KMPro Bylaws, violation of any existing KMPro Code of Ethics, expulsion from KMPro, or the commission of criminal or other unlawful activity may result in termination of this license. In the event that your license to use this designation is revoked you acknowledge that you will immediately cease using the CKM® designation in any manner including but not limited to using the designation as evidence of KMPro certification on any literature, letterhead, business card, advertising, or name suffix.

In using the CKM® designation you must use this designation properly. Here is an example of proper usage of the designation: John Doe, CKM®

Name (Print) &
Signature: _____

Date: _____